

Discover Leonteq - an international fintech company!

Do you want to challenge yourself amongst market-leading experts, work in an inspiring environment and receive training that will advance your career from the outset? Our graduate and internship programmes will equip the next generation of university talents for long-term careers within our company. Successful applicants will join their team of choice and become valued team members from day one. Meet Chris and Marion who will introduce the company and your career opportunities in this live stream. To make it even more tangible, you will also gain valuable insights from a current Graduate programme attendee.

Leonteq is an international fintech company with a leading marketplace for structured investment solutions. The company counts itself amongst the most innovative firms with a presence through 14 offices across Switzerland, Europe, Asia and the Middle East.

Our workforce brings a young, dynamic and diverse energy to the global fintech market.
