Research Methods in Education I (PED12155M)
Research as an essential dimension of professionalism
1.1. Relationship between scientific knowledge and professional practice
1.2. The research as a mean to support the educational action
2. Epistemology and research methodology
2.1. Construction of scientific knowledge
2.2. Fundamentals of scientific knowledge
2.3. Research paradigms: scientific / positivist and naturalist / interpretive
3. Steps in research
3.1. Identifying the problem
3.2. Review of literature
3.3. Research designs: experimental, case study, action research
3.4. Construction of instruments for data collection: observation, interviews, questionnaires.
3.5. Data Collection
3.6. Data Analysis
4. The writing of scientific reports.

Communication and Professional Development (PED12161M)
1. Human communication.
1.1 Verbal aspect.
1.1.1 Communication models.
1.2 Non-verbal aspect.
1.2.1 Field and functions of non-verbal communication.

2.1 Among people, among people and groups and among groups.
2.2 In educational situations
3. Encounters
4. Contacts
5. Speaking at a meeting
6. Speaking in public
7. Some non-technological resources/tools towards an efficient communication in multiple specific professional interactions

Intermediate Management, Evaluation and School Regulation (PED12162M)

1. Organizations school and intermediate management structures (structuralist approach).
- The essence of the structure, key components and mechanisms of coordination
- School organizations and structural settings
- Management structures intermediate: legal framework and competencies
2. The curriculum department and class as organizational units of analysis
- Knowledge and school adjustment
. The management of information as a resource
. Knowledge and decision-based process indicators, best practices and experiential knowledge
. The production and dissemination of knowledge contextualized as regulatory tools and educational governance
- Configuration of measurement systems and performance analysis
. Reference tables, fields and fields of analysis
. The use of databases and (organizational) units of observation and evaluation
. Models to calculate the expected value and school effectiveness
3. alternative interventions and strategic action plans

Evaluation of School Organizations (PED11239M)

Theoretical- conceptual framework of schools evaluation
The assumptions and the evaluation planning
From the effective schools movement to the effective improvement of schools movement
The Schools Evaluation in Portugal
Brief characterization of some previous projects to external schools evaluation model
Characterization and operationalization of the external schools evaluation model
The External Schools Evaluation reference framework
Planning and operationalization of self-evaluation/internal evaluation
To develop improvement plans
Self-evaluation and External Evaluation of schools: synergies, liaisons and consequences

Digital Education Resources Evaluation (PED12163M)

1. Introduction to digital learning resources: Overview of the processes of creation, organization, distribution, use and evaluation of digital educational resources (RED) and operative concepts: digital educational resources, learning objects and repositories.
2. Criteria and quality dimensions in the evaluation of Digital Educational Resources.
3. Tools and Processes for creating RED. Tools for creating digital learning resources.
4. Legal and ethical issues in the production, distribution and use of RED: licenses and terms of use (eg Creative Commons licenses).
5. Evaluation of RED : Concepts and models of evaluation.
Assessment instruments RED

Philosophy of Education (FIL12164M)

Introduction: The status of Philosophy of Education

2.The quantitative or statistical methods
2.1.The simple descriptive statistics
2.2.Statistical decision: the null hypothesis; the significance level and the confidence level
2.3.The correlational statistic:
the Pearson coefficient
the Spearman coefficient
2.4.The Inferential statistics:
2.4.1.Parametric:
2.4.1.1.Comparison of averages
the Student t test for two samples (paired or unpaired);
2.4.2.Nonparametric:
2.4.2.1. Comparison of overall performance of distributions, proportions or frequencies
the χ2 test and the Kolmogorov-Smirnov test;
2.4.2.2. Comparison of global performance
•the Mann-Whitney test and the Wilcoxon test;
3.Qualitative methods
3.1.Content analysis as a fundamental technique for qualitative data analysis.
3.2.Categorization and content analysis: the categories and their fundamental properties

Follow-up Seminar and Support for Research I (PED12159M)
The curricular plan is not closed since this is a training and discussion seminar opened to the diversity, interests and needs of the students' individual projects in view of the lines of research/intervention to which they belong. Content is continuously updated and is organized along the following lines:
1. Review and critical discussion of the general research methods and its suitability to the research/intervention issues
2. Identification and discussion of research/intervention problems in education
3. Deepening of specific data collection and processing instruments and their suitability with the nature of the objects and the research/intervention problems
4. Designing research/intervention projects

Follow-up Seminar and Support for Research II (PED12160M)

The curricular plan is not closed since this is a training and discussion seminar opened to the diversity, interests and needs of the students' individual projects in view of the lines of work to which they belong. Content is continuously updated and is organized along the following lines:

1. exploration of systematic literature review according to the objects of study
2. Improvement of specific tools for collecting and processing data and its suitability to the object's nature and research/intervention issues.
3. Exploitation of computational techniques for processing and analyzing quantitative and qualitative data
4. Dissemination of research and intervention results
