3. Program description:

The Master's degree in International Relations and European Studies is an interdisciplinary course, that aims to offer students an in-depth analysis of the main actors, structures and processes that shape global policy.

Throughout the first year, the master's program addresses the main topics of International Relations and provides a solid theoretical knowledge for its analysis. A special emphasis is given on the study of the European Union as a political system and as an actor in a globalized world. The teaching methodology respects the balance between theoretical and practical dimensions of the disciplinary area of the course, in order to provide students with a diverse set of essential skills, both in academic as well as in professional terms.

The second year is dedicated to the writing of the dissertation, allowing students to deepen their knowledge and apply their research skills in the field of International Relations and European Studies, in topics of their interests and scientific and professional aspirations.

4. Career opportunities:

The holders of the Master in International Relations and European Studies gain a wide range of theoretical and practical skills that enable them to pursue a career in public and private sectors, including governmental departments, public administration, international governmental organisations (IGO), institutions and bodies of the European Union (EU), non-governmental organisations (NGOs), political parties, lobbygroups and international businesses.

After completing their master's degree, the graduates are prepared to successfully pursue a wide variety of jobs that can also include diplomacy, consulting, teaching and research.

8. General conditions of access and admission:

i Legal conditions for access to the cycle of studies leading to the master degree

The following individuals can apply for a cycle of studies leading to the master degree:

- holders of a Portuguese Licenciado degree or legal equivalent;
- holders of a foreign higher education undergraduate degree, which is recognized as satisfying the objectives of the degree of Licenciado by the competent scientific committee of the higher education institution where they wish to be admitted;
- holders of an academic, scientific or professional curriculum which is recognized as attesting the ability to carry out this cycle of studies by the competent scientific committee of the higher education institution where they wish to be admitted.

ii Conditions of access to the cycle of studies at the University of Evora

On the application date, the undergraduate students must satisfy conditions that guarantee the conclusion of their undergraduate degree until the 30th of October of the admission year. The admission and enrollment of these students is conditioned on the conclusion of the degree until this date, and the enrollment is canceled if the student does not complete the degree within that period.

During the first application phase, students who have a maximum of 6 curricular units or 36 ECTS missing for conclusion of their degree can apply for the 2nd cycle; in the 2nd application phase students can apply if they have at most 3 curricular units missing and in the 3rd application phase if they have at most one curricular unit missing.

The previous condition does not apply to students with a curriculum that reveals professional or scientific experience, which can be recognized by the competent scientific body, as attesting the student's ability to carry out the master's degree/post-graduation, provided that the student required that recognition in the application process.

iii Specific admission conditions

May apply for the MSc in International Relations and European Studies graduates in Social Sciences and Humanities, Law and Political Science and Economics.
